OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

On the Road Again: Oklahoma City looks to earn its 12th win in 15 games and eighth in the last 10 by traveling to Minnesota to take on the Timberwolves. In the last 14 games, nine have been decided in clutch time and the Thunder has won all but one of those contests, good for the most such wins in the league during this span. The Thunder holds a 31-13 record against the Timberwolves and a 17-5 record when playing them inside Chesapeake Energy Arena. Following this contest, the Thunder will return home to host the Toronto Raptors on Wednesday, Jan. 15.

Getting Defensive: Oklahoma City has earned the second-best fourth quarter defensive rating (98.9) as well as the second-best +/- rating in OT (+30) thanks to a perfect 4-0 OT record. OKC is holding opponents to the fourth-fewest made shots from beyond the arc (10.9) on the fourth-fewest attempts (31.6) and the fewest fast break points (10.9) among all NBA teams while giving opponents the third-fewest free throw opportunities (18.3). Additionally, the Thunder has earned the seventh-most loose balls recovered (8.2) and is contesting the third-most shots from inside the arc (42.3) and the fifth most overall (64.3).

Bench Mob: The Oklahoma City reserves have outscored opposing benches in 29 of the Thunder's 39 games, with OKC earning an 18-11 record when that happens. The Thunder bench has the fourth-best bench scoring margin in the NBA (6.9), holding opponent reserves to the lowest scoring average (31.5) while ranking first in blocks (95). Also, Dennis Schröder ranks third among all bench scorers (18.3) while Nerlens Noel ranks second among all NBA reserves in blocks (1.39) (min. 30 games). In OKC's win over the Pelicans on Nov. 29, Schröder (25) and Abdel Nader (19) combined for 44 points as reserves. The previous game, that same duo combined for 33 points in relief, helping Oklahoma City's bench to a 59.5-points per game average over those two contests.

Giving Thanks: Since Thanksgiving Day, Oklahoma City has gone 16-6 (.727), good for the fourth-best record among all NBA teams during that time span behind Milwaukee (20-3, .870), LA Lakers (16-5, .762) and Utah (15-6, .727).

Coming in Clutch: The Thunder has four of the Top 5 leaders in clutch +/- rating (Steven Adams, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander, Dennis Schröder, Chris Paul). Also, Paul leads all players with 103 clutch points on the season while Gilgeous-Alexander ranks ninth with his 65 and Gallinari is tied for the second-most clutch threes with his 10. Gilgeous-Alexander and Paul rank second and third for clutch time steals, respectively (seven, six). As a team, the Thunder has earned the most clutch points in the NBA (302).

New Decade, Who Dis: After defeating the Mavericks on 12/31, OKC now holds a 10-2 record when playing on New Year's Eve and is tied with Houston for the most such wins since 2008. In the last 10 years, the Thunder has earned the second-best NBA win percentage (.639) and the seventh best among the four major professional sports (NBA, MLB, NFL, NHL) as well as the most All-NBA selections in the league (16). Heading into 2020, Oklahoma City earned an 11-4 record in December (best in the Western Conference at .714) and a 5-2 road record after defeating the Raptors in Toronto, handing them just the fifth home loss of the season and extending a five-game win streak in their arena, the longest such streak among all Raptors opponents.

Comeback Kings: After downing the Nets in overtime on 1/7, the Thunder has now won 11 games in which they have been trailing entering the fourth quarter. No other team in the league has won more than six such games.

Hot Schröder: Dennis Schröder has now led all Thunder reserves in 34 of 38 games. In the Thunder's first back-to-back of the season on 10/27-28, he logged 22 points, eight rebounds, six assists and four steals on the first night and 22 points, five rebounds and seven assists the second. Schröder is the first Thunder reserve to notch 20+ points and 5+ rebounds in back-to-back games. On 1/4 at Cleveland, Schröder marked his 17th straight game with 17+ points, the longest such streak in OKC history as the previous record was five games (Harden, Kanter). Schröder has worn No. 17 his entire NBA career.

Home Cooking: Since arriving in Oklahoma City, the Thunder has always taken pride in defending its home court. Dating back to the start of the 2009-10 season, OKC has gone 307-115 (.727) at home, which stands as the second-best home record in the NBA during this span. Since the 2010-11 season, Oklahoma City has earned 280 wins on home court, which stands as the second-most home wins in that timeframe (San Antonio).

The Rest is History: Since New Year's Eve the Thunder's first season in OKC (12/31/08), the Thunder has earned a 62.4 win percentage, good for second-best in the league during that time.

OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

You Know What They Shai: From 12/22-12/31, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander logged five consecutive games with at least 15 points and multiple steals. The only other Thunder players to record such a streak are Kevin Durant, Paul George and Russell Westbrook. Westbrook holds the longest OKC streak at seven games from 2010. The only other players in the league to produce such a streak this season are James Harden (seven) and Westbrook (six).

Dennis the Menace: From 12/20 to 12/31, Dennis Schröder produced six straight games with 20+ points off the bench, the longest such streak in OKC history and the longest across all NBA reserves in the last two years. This was part of an 18-game streak in which Schröder has scored 15+ points as a reserve, the longest such streak in Thunder history (previously Harden, Martin with seven) and the longest in the league this season.

Ten-Fold: In 10 games from 12/27-1/4, the Thunder went 9-1, tied for the best in the NBA (Utah). This marks the third streak for OKC since 2017-18 of 10+ games with only one loss. OKC had a five-game win streak, good for both the team's longest of the season and was at the time tied for the longest active streak in the NBA.

Turnover of Events: In the win at San Antonio on 1/2, the Thunder only allowed four turnovers for the entirety of the game as the Spurs were only able to swipe one steal. This ties the Oklahoma City record for the second-fewest in a game. The fewest turnovers ever allowed in a Thunder game was two in 2013.

Noel Days Off: Nerlens Noel has logged eight games so far this season in which he has blocked a shot and grabbed multiple steals. The only Thunder players to log more such games through as many contests are Kevin Durant and Paul George (nine).

Monthly Winner: Head Coach Billy Donovan was named Western Conference Coach of the Month for the month of December, his first such honor. Donovan guided Oklahoma City to a conference-leading 11-4 record, closing out the month winning seven of eight contests. During the month, OKC compiled one four-game win streak and a pair of three game win-streaks. Oklahoma City finished the month with a 5-2 record on the road, capped by a 98-97 victory at the reigning NBA Champion Toronto Raptors, giving the Raptors just their fifth defeat at home this season. The Thunder also went 9-2 in games decided in clutch time, the second-most such wins on the month.

Win the Week: Dennis Schröder was named NBA Player of the Week for Week 9 after leading the Thunder to a perfect 4-0 week behind averages of 25.3 points, 5.3 rebounds and 6.0 assists, shooting 50.7 percent from the field and 92.6 percent from the free throw line. He is now just the fourth player in the last 20 years to earn POW honors as a reserve (Lou Williams 2018, Markieff Morris 2013, J.R. Smith 2013).

Stealing Olajuwon's Thunder: On 12/14 at Denver, Chris Paul stole his 2,163rd ball to pass Hakeem Olajuwon for eighth all-time in steals on the NBA leaderboards. Paul already ranked first among all active players. Each player that sits ahead of him on that all-time list is a member of the Hall of Fame (Stockton, Kidd, Jordan, Payton, Cheeks, Pippen, Drexler).

Don't Call it a Comeback: On 12/16 vs. Chicago, Oklahoma City overcame a 26-point deficit in the second quarter to earn a 109-106 win over the Bulls after outscoring them 60-38 in the second half. This marks the largest home comeback victory in Thunder history and ties the OKC record (2/9/19 at Houston). OKC then followed that performance with a 24-point comeback win over the Grizzlies the next game, making the Thunder the only team in the last 20 years to overcome back-to-back 24-point deficits. Two games later, the Thunder earned an 18-point comeback win over the Clippers, the first time the Thunder has ever had as many such wins within a week span.

Need I Shai More: Through the first 10 games this season, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander averaged 21.0 points, the second-highest scoring average through the first 10 games of any Thunder sophomore behind Kevin Durant's 21.9 in 2008 and ahead of Russell Westbrook's 15.6 in 2009. Additionally, through 30 games, Gilgeous-Alexander's 19.1 points per game average ranks second only to Durant's 23.7 and ahead of Westbrook's 16.3.

Paul in a Day's Work: A nine-time All-Star and two-time gold medalist, Chris Paul is ranked seventh in NBA history in assists (9,433) and eighth in steals (2,184) and is first among active players in both. He joins Jason Kidd and John Stockton as the only players with 9,000+ assists and 2,000+ steals. Additionally, in the win over the Bulls on 12/16, Paul scored his 18,000th career point, making him one of three players in NBA history with 18,000+ points and 9,000+ rebounds, joining John Stockton and Isiah Thomas.

OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

Draft Horse: After Summer 2019, the Thunder now holds eight first-round draft picks over the next seven years in addition to the team's own picks. Also, OKC can swap the least favorable of its own 2021 1st and Miami's 2021 1st with Houston's 2021st (protected 1-4), its own 2023 1st with LA Clippers' 2023 1st (unprotected), its own 2025 1st with LA Clippers' 2025 1st (unprotected), and its own 2025 1st with Houston's 2025 1st (protected 1-10). A breakdown of the Thunder's additional first-round picks can be found below.

2026	LA Clippers	Unprotected
2026	Houston	Protected 1-4 in 2026; if it doesn't convey as a 1st then Houston's 2026 2nd and $1M cash

Billy the Kid: With Oklahoma City's 120-92 victory over Golden State, Billy Donovan earned his 200th win as an NBA head coach with a 60.4 percent win percentage. The only other active head coaches to have at least 200 wins and a 60 percent win percentage or better with their respective teams are Steve Kerr (322 wins, 78.5 percent), Gregg Popovich (1,245 wins, 68.4 percent) and Doc Rivers (307 wins, 62.4 percent).

On the Record: In the 139-127 overtime victory over the Timberwolves on 12/6, the Thunder had five players with at least 20 points (Paul 30, Gilgeous-Alexander 29, Schröder 25, Adams 22, Gallinari 21). This marks the first time in Oklahoma City history and the first time in the league since March 2004 that a team has had as many players with 20-plus points each (Atlanta – Stephen Jackson 42, Bob Sura 28, Jason Terry 23, Jason Collier 22, Chris Crawford 20).

Ciao Ciao: From 10/23-11/5, Danilo Gallinari went a perfect 24-for-24 from the free throw line before his first miss of the season, which was good for longest such streak in the league. Additionally, Gallinari leads the Thunder in three-point makes with 96, shooting them with 39.7 percent accuracy.

Keeping it 100: In the Thunder's win over New Orleans on Nov. 29, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander played his 100th-career game. He is one of 14 players with 100+ steals, 50+ blocks and 75+ three-pointers in their first 100 games since threes became an official stat in 1982.

Mind the Gap: On 10/28 at Houston, the Thunder bench outscored the Rockets reserves 52-14. This 38-point margin is the largest for Oklahoma City since 4/12/17 vs. Denver and ranks as the fourth largest such margin in Thunder history. The night before on 10/27 vs. Golden State, the Thunder downed the Warriors 120-92, tying OKC's largest margin of victory over Golden State. The 33-point halftime edge was the Warriors' worst deficit at the break since 1997.

Hamidoing it Right: After finishing his rookie campaign with 21 steals, Hamidou Diallo snagged 15 through the first 10 games of the 2019-20 season. This makes him the first Thunder sophomore to grab as many in the first 10 games of the season. Second is Jeff Green in 2008 (14).

Eight Ball: In the 11/9 victory over the Warriors, Danilo Gallinari led the team with 21 points on 6-of-11 shooting from the field and 4-of-6 shooting from beyond the arc. In the process, he scored his 8,888th career point. Born on 8/8/88, Gallinari has worn the number eight since he entered the league in 2008.

You can Shai that Again: In his Thunder debut at Utah on 10/23, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander posted a team-leading and then-career-best 26 points, the second-most ever scored in a Thunder debut (Paul George, 28). He is also just the third Thunder player to lead the team in scoring in his team debut (Paul George, Russell Westbrook). He then followed that performance by setting yet another career mark with 28 points against the Wizards on Oct. 25.

OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

International Flair: The 2019-20 Thunder squad features six international players in Steven Adams (New Zealand), Danilo Gallinari (Italy), Shai Gilgeous-Alexander (Canada), Abdel Nader (Egypt), Dennis Schröder (Germany) and two-way player Luguentz Dort (Canada). Including two-way players, Oklahoma City is tied for the third-most international players on opening night rosters among all NBA teams as only Philadelphia (eight) and Dallas (seven) have more. This year, NBA rosters feature 108 international players from 38 countries and territories and a record-setting 11 international two-way players from eight countries, marking the sixth-consecutive season that opening-night rosters feature at least 100 international players.

New Kids on the Block: Over the summer, Oklahoma City added some new faces to the roster, including Darius Bazley, Danilo Gallinari, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander and Chris Paul. At Las Vegas Summer League 2019, Bazley had the best three-point shooting percentage on the team (42.9 percent) and swatted the second-most blocks of all Thunder players (five). Last year, in his 11th NBA season, Gallinari averaged career bests in points (19.8), rebounds (6.1) and field goal percentage (46.3 percent) while ranking fourth in the NBA in free throw percentage (90.4 percent) and fifth in the league in three-point percentage (43.3 percent). During the 2018-19 season, Gilgeous-Alexander led all rookies on +.500 teams in scoring and minutes per game and during March led the NBA in three-point shooting (59.4). A nine-time All-Star, Paul has been named to the All-NBA team on eight occasions, led the league in steals six times and assists four times. He has also been named to nine NBA All-Defensive Teams. Paul is the only player in NBA history to average at least 18.0 points, 9.0 assists, 4.0 rebounds and 2.00 steals.

Sustaining Success: In the past decade, OKC has compiled the second-best record in the NBA (behind San Antonio). After the 2008-09 season in which Oklahoma City won 20 games after a 3-29 start, the Thunder found ways to improve the club each year and with a 60-22 record during the 2012-13 season, Oklahoma City became just the second team in NBA history (Boston, 1955-1960) to increase its winning percentage for five consecutive seasons (while maintaining a winning percentage of .700 or better in two of those seasons). Oklahoma City has now finished with a winning percentage of .610 (equivalent to 50 wins) six times dating back to the 2009-10 season. Only San Antonio (eight seasons with .610 or better winning percentage) has reached that benchmark more during this period.
